

How To Add Your Works Cited

1. Log into Noodletools and open your list. Click "Print."

The screenshot shows the NoodleTools interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'My Lists', 'Bibliography', 'Notecards', and 'Help'. The 'Bibliography' tab is active. Below this, a welcome message says 'Welcome, juliebrem' with links for 'Sign Out' and 'My Account'. The main heading is 'Works Cited'. To the right, it says 'MLA Source List:Frogs' and 'Author:juliebrem'. Below the heading, there's a 'Cite a:' dropdown menu with '<Select a citation type>' and a 'Create Citation' button. A toolbar contains buttons for 'Print', 'Save As Word Doc', 'Share', 'Email', 'Analysis', and 'Advanced Mode'. The 'Print' button is highlighted with an arrow. To the right of the toolbar is a 'Sort:' dropdown menu set to 'Alphabetic'. Below the toolbar, there's a 'Notecard display:' section with three options: 'Show/hide all', 'Show/hide thought cards (notecards not linked to a citation)', and 'Show only notecards that have comments'. The main content area is a table with columns: 'Media Type', 'Citation', 'Description', and 'Notecards'. It lists two items: a 'Reference Source' and a 'Book'. Each item has a checkbox, a description, and a 'Notecards' count (0 New). To the right of each item are links for 'Edit', 'Copy', 'Delete', 'Parenthetical Reference', and 'Have a Question?'. At the bottom, there's a section for 'Select one or more items and perform an action:' with buttons for 'Duplicate', 'Delete', and 'Apply', along with a 'Description:' dropdown menu.

2. Make sure your popup blocker is off. In Internet Explorer, go to Tools and turn off the popup blocker.

3. Click “preview.”

Below the navigation bar, there is a "Print" button with a printer icon. Underneath, the "Formatting Options" section contains a table with the following settings:

Option	Current Setting (click to edit)
List Title:	Works Cited
Page Header:	None
Italics/Underlining:	Italics
Annotation Spacing:	Annotation follows citation on the same line (no extra space)
Include:	Citations and annotations

At the bottom, the "Export and Print" section includes a play button icon and the text: "Open and print this list in your word processor with the correct margins and spacing. You may preview your list first as a Web page (with approximate formatting), but be sure to print the final draft from your word processor."

An arrow points from the instruction "Click 'preview.'" to the preview link in the "Export and Print" section.

4. Your works cited should open up in a new tab or window. Copy and paste it at the end of your draft on your wiki page.
